

V-Beauty™ is the latest treatment for facial thread veins to be launch in the UK, addressing a problem which affects over 55% of our adult population

Thread veins are very small, rarely exceeding 0.3mm in diameter. This makes it virtually impossible for traditional treatment methods to be used to eliminate these unsightly blood vessels.

The V-Beauty™ system utilises a highly advanced technology that allows the treatment and instant elimination of these facial thread veins.

The System generates a high frequency current, the bi-product of which is an instantaneous heat energy. This intense heat is targeted at the treatment area by a single use ultra fine insulated needle and it is the heat energy which coagulates the blood causing the vessel walls to collapse and disappear - a surgical technique known as thermo-coagulation.

"They immediately disappear and will not says Dr. Jean Luc Richard, a vascular specialist at the Georges Pompidou Hospital in Paris.

"There is no risk of complications. It is safe, quick and pain free. It's a 'walk-in, walk-out' treatment."

Unlike lasers, IPL, LHE or electrolysis V-Beauty™ can be applied to any skin type or colour with no risk scarring, burning or pigmentation.
